Norac Additives Force Majeure Update - August 16, 2021

On August 3rd, Norac Additives issued a Force Majeure declaration due to a significant interruption in the quantity and the timing of raw material supply. At that time our forecast was that all Metallic Stearate production would be shut down for a minimum of 2 weeks. As of August 16th, we have begun to receive raw material again and are in the process of resuming production at our Helena manufacturing facility.

As we restart our operations, we will be actively reaching out to customers to manage both quantity and timing of material delivery to accommodate customer needs to the best of our ability.

Our current priority is servicing the impacted orders. We will temporarily hold issuing confirmation for acceptance of new future orders until we assess the full effectiveness of the restart of operations.

We thank you for your business, and especially for your continued patience and cooperation.

Best regards,

Norac Additives, LLC
